Puerto Rican woman-owned cosmetics company Bettina Cosmetics is continuing its expansion into the continental United States with a launch of 50 nail polish colors into 602 Walgreens stores across Florida.

"It is with great pride and excitement we announce that thanks to our partnership with Walgreens, our nail polishes are now available at 738 points of sale throughout the state of Florida," said Bettina Mercado, president at Bettina Cosmetics and also former New York actress who took over the reins of the family business and made it the leading company that it is today.

The Bettina Cosmetics nail polish line is a best-selling brand in Puerto Rico, and since 2015, has been available at Navarro pharmacies in Miami, a chain of 28 stores in South Florida. In addition to Navarro, the cruelty-free brand can also be found in 108 Walmart stores in Florida.
