

LOCAL NEWS

Gabriella Nuñez, Multimedia Producer
 Published: February 24, 2021, 9:51 am
 Tags: Food, Coronavirus, COVID-19, Pandemic

Sign up for our Newsletters

Enter your email here!

f t e m

RELATED STORIES

- Biden orders review of US supply chains for vital goods
- Florida Foodie: Grassroots effort to get food to people in need during the pandemic
- Food & Wine festival returns to Busch Gardens Tampa Bay
- UPDATE: St. Cloud votes to allow food trucks to operate in city

LATEST NEWS

- 2 HOURS AGO
'I think we're in the Black section:' Couple says Orlando restaurant segregated diners
- 2 HOURS AGO
COVID-19 vaccination sites in Orlando could see big crowds this weekend
- 6 HOURS AGO
Missing Mount Dora boy may be traveling to Colorado or Wisconsin with 42-year-old man
- 6 HOURS AGO
Return to work mistake stops single mom's unemployment benefits for 16 weeks

Florida Technical College to host drive-up food distribution event

Event is first-come, first-served

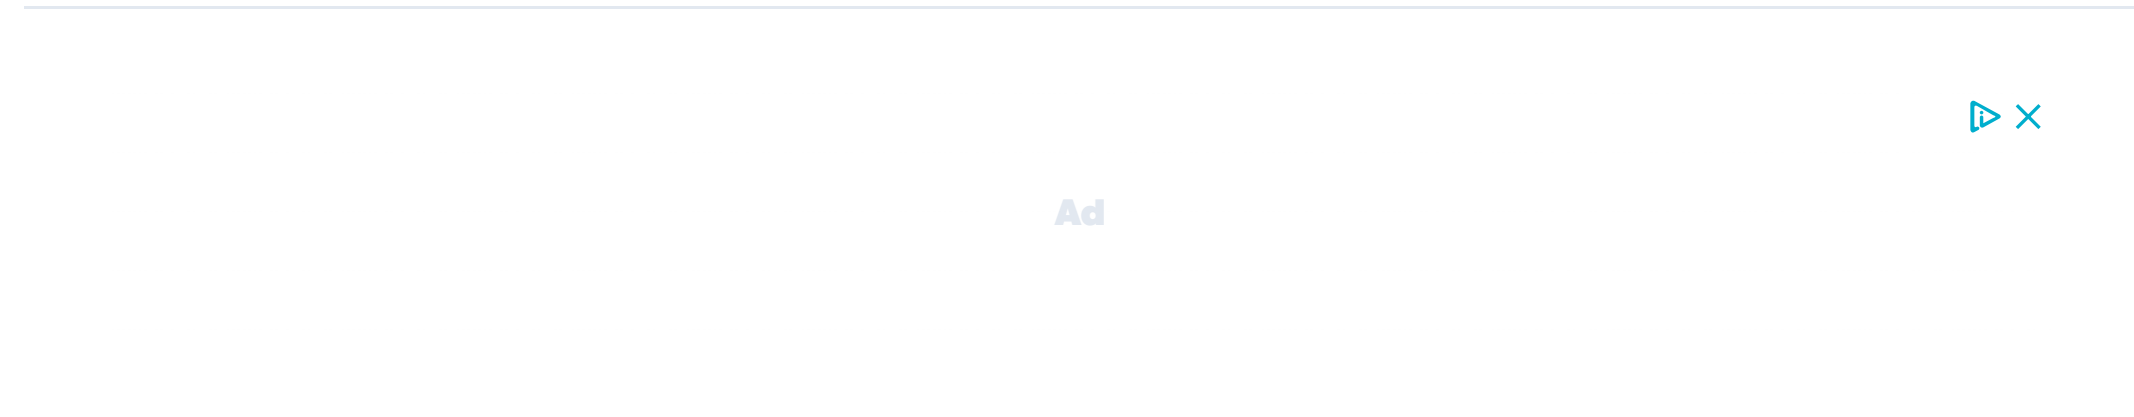

(FILE) (Copyright 2021 The Associated Press. All rights reserved.)

ORLANDO, Fla. – Florida Technical College will host a drive-up food distribution event Thursday to help families struggling financially through the coronavirus pandemic.

The event will be from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and have supplies to help feed around 500 families, according to a news release.

[TRENDING: Tiger Woods' leg shattered in rollover crash | Orlando City player faces sex charge | Woman loses $100,000 to romance conman]

To help feed these families, the Technical College and Advance Community Outreach Center are partnering with Second Harvest Food Bank and Food Drive for Hunger.

Families will receive boxes of seasonal produce and non-perishable food items.

According to the college, people looking to participate in the distribution event can drive up to the Florida Technical College parking lot and pop open their trunks so volunteers can place groceries directly into vehicles.

There are no pre-qualifications, and anyone may drive up to receive food boxes. It is first-come, first-served and the drive-up event will end when food runs out.

FTC plans to host another food distribution event March 25.

Copyright 2021 by WKMG ClickOrlando - All rights reserved.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Gabriella Nuñez

Gaby is a multimedia producer from Miami. She graduated from the University of Florida and joined the News 6 team in 2018.

email twitter

Conversation

FOLLOW

LOG IN | SIGN UP

ALL COMMENTS

Newest

Start The Conversation

ACTIVE CONVERSATIONS

- Northeast residents move to Orlando area in droves during pandemic  11
- 'I think we're in the Black section:' Couple says Orlando restaurant segregated diners  4

Powered by viafoura

Top Articles

WATCH LIVE: News 6 at 7 p.m. : Mar 05, 2021

READ MORE

- TV Listings
- RSS Feeds
- Careers at WKMG
- Public File
- Do Not Sell My Info
- Contests and Rules
- Closed Captioning
- Terms of Use
- EEO Report

- Email Newsletters
- Contact Us / Follow on Social Media
- Privacy Policy
- Disability Assistance

FOLLOW US

f t @ RSS

GET RESULTS WITH OMNE

If you need help with the Public File, call 407-291-6000.